WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

PENN STATE NITTANY LIONS
The Nittany Lions picked up a big road win in Columbus last week and will look to cap a tumultuous regular season with an upset of the powerful Badgers. The Wildcat offense should give Wisconsin's defense something to think about and Penn State's defense, a few tackling troubles aside, continues to be solid. If the players have been distracted by the Jerry Sandusky and Joe Paterno stories, it has rarely been evident on the field.

WISCONSIN BADGERS

The Badgers have been vulnerable away from Madison, losing at Michigan State and Ohio State and struggling last week before winning at Illinois, but Bret Bielen's team is a different animal in Camp Randall Stadium. Wisconsin is 7-0 at home and has beaten opponents there by the average score of 52-11 this season. Quarterback Russell Wilson is a dynamic runner and passer and the Badgers have the Big Ten's second-rated defense.
